SOUTHERN ITALY

Welcome to Southern Italy

Calabria is located in the South West corner of Italy with only the Straits of Messina separating it from Sicily. This stunning region is one of Italy's best kept secrets among Italians who flock to the area escaping the stifling cities during the summer months. It's only recently that this magical destination has begun to attract the attention of International buyers and tourists alike, however for many years the Costa Degli Dei has been one of the most attractive, unspoilt areas in Europe to buy.

The charm and distinguished character of this beautiful location has been shaped by its dramatic landscapes and mountain ranges including, the Aspromonte and Serre to the South and Pollino to the North. The coastline descending in to the Mediterranean and Ionic seas is home to miles of pristine, white beaches and charming authentic villages leading to famed destinations like Pizzo, Tropea and Zambrone.

Here one may find a unique combination of exquisite natural beauty, traditional cultures and history in abundance, all situated and to be experienced in one of the warmest all year round climates Europe has to offer.
